Texas Wildflowers & Magnolia Market

Explore Nature's Beauty in the Lone Star State

MARCH 12-20, 2027 COACH • MARCH 13-19, 2027 FLY

Each spring, Texas Hill Country comes alive with blankets of bluebonnets, Texas Indian Paintbrush, Pink Evening Primrose, and more. Explore the region's best wildflowers during season's peak while visiting some of Texas' most prominent historical and scenic sites. Experience Magnolia Market in Waco, stay on the historic River Walk, and explore the Missions in San Antonio, and wander the charming streets of Fredericksburg.

DAY 1: OKLAHOMA

Depart for Oklahoma for an overnight and dinner with your fellow travelers. D

DAY 2: WELCOME TO TEXAS!

Travel south towards Dallas and enjoy lunch on your own in the bustling downtown. This evening, arrive in Austin, the state capital. Settle into your hotel and enjoy a warm welcome dinner. B, D (fly tour arrives in Austin)

DAY 3: WESTERN ART, SAN ANTONIO BOTANICAL GARDEN

Depart Austin and travel towards San Antonio. Visit the Briscoe Western Art Museum and learn about the artifacts, stories, and artwork that shaped the American West. Enjoy lunch and time on your own at the historic Pearl District, a vibrant community home to a beautiful farmer's market featuring local artisans. Continue on to the San Antonio Botanical Garden. Tonight, check into your hotel on the historic River Walk and enjoy dinner with your travel companions. B, D

DAY 4: SAN ANTONIO MISSIONS, RIVER WALK

Today, immerse yourself in the history of San Antonio with a local expert. Start with a visit to the San Antonio Missions National Historical Park, the only UNESCO World Heritage Site in Texas. Explore the largest concentration of Spanish colonial missions in North America. Stroll along San Antonio's first suburb, King William, settled in the 19th century by prosperous German merchants who displayed their wealth through extravagant homes. This afternoon, enjoy free time to explore the San Antonio River Walk. B, L

DAY 5: FREDERICKSBURG

This morning, head to Fredericksburg, located in the heart of the Texas Hill Country. Explore Wildseed Farms, where fields of wildflowers are grown for the production of seed. Enjoy a tour and tasting at a local Fredericksburg winery before exploring the historic downtown which blends rich German heritage with a laid-back charm. B, L

DAY 6: LBJ LIBRARY, LADY BIRD JOHNSON WILDFLOWER CENTER

Limestone cliffs, granite outcroppings, and hidden springs are a perfect habitat for wildflowers in Hill Country. You'll witness this wonderful area up close in the morning light as we travel from Fredericksburg towards Austin. En route, travel through the back roads to see the region's blooming flowers. The group will continue on to Austin, where the Lyndon B. Johnson Presidential Library offers an inspiring journey through the life of the 36th President.

This is also a great introduction to our next stop, the Lady Bird Johnson Wildflower Center. From collecting seeds to designing and installing green roofs, the Lady Bird Johnson Wildflower Center in Austin realizes its mission through ecological design, research, plant conservation, and landscape restoration. B, L

Explore Chip and Joanna Gaines' Magnolia Market in Waco, TX

DAY 7: MAGNOLIA MARKET

Spend today exploring Magnolia Market, the creation of home design experts Chip and Joanna Gaines. Visit the beautifully designed gardens and shops, plus the Silos Baking Co. filled with Joanna's personal recipes. Hop aboard the Silo District Trolley to tour downtown Waco at your leisure. This evening, a delicious BBQ farewell dinner is in order. B, D

DAY 8: FAREWELL

Depart Austin with fond memories and new friends. Stop in Grapevine, get lunch at the Harvest Hall food market, and take some time to explore the historic downtown. Enjoy a farewell dinner and an overnight stay in Oklahoma. B, D (fly tour departs from Austin)

DAY 9: RETURN HOME B ✨
